SUMMARY OF INFORMATION

There are three plans of action being formulated to commit acts of terrorism by Islamic terrorists with ties in Italy. The first provides for the hijacking of an aircraft whose flight originates in Naples, Italy, and whose itinerary includes Corinth, Greece, and Istanbul, Turkey. Twelve terrorists are involved; plans call for six of the terrorists to hijack the aircraft. Attempts to identify the airline resulted in the name "Eastern D" (previously identified as Eastern Airlines during session of 8 July 1988). Other data related to the hijacking of this aircraft are the words "WOR" and "ROW" with flight numbers indicated as 107, 108, 109, and 813. [Data will be refined in late July]. The second plan calls for acts of terrorism to be directed against airline terminals "anywhere". Best opportunity targets are in Italy and Greece. The possibility of an act of terrorism directed against West Germany is in the conceptual stages; its feasibility will be addressed at a later date.
